Contractor David F. Ahrens who was awarded the contract for the construction of sidewalks in this city, has not yet started on the work and does not know when he will be able to, owing to the inability to secure cement.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Adams of New Haven have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bernice Arlene, to Warren Chandler Tene, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Tene of Bradford. Miss Adams is a niece of Mrs. F. S. Swift of this city.

Mrs. George Whitford of Windham had given a party to the members of the Star club Wednesday. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock, followed by music and dancing. Those present were Mrs. W. S. Tuttle, Mrs. W. E. Shippee, Mrs. A. J. Webb, Mrs. C. L. Barrows and Mrs. L. Babcock.

Chief of Police Daniel J. Killourey received a telephone message from Captain Stephen J. Tobin of Rockville on Thursday, asking him to be on the look-out for a Ford touring car, Connecticut registry, 27-527, which was stolen in that city Wednesday night.

While the storm raged outside with relentless fury it could not be said that all was calm and tranquility in the police court Thursday morning, where the Shaw and Nichols families of Turner street endeavored to impress the fact upon Judge Curtis Dean that the other side to blame for differences that have occurred between them for some time, the most recent being the alleged assault by Mrs. Charles H. Shaw on three-year-old Helen Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Nichols. Mrs. Shaw pleaded not guilty to the charge and said she had warned two of the Nichols children to stop digging holes in her driveway.

PLAINFIELD

Saturday next the Plainfield bowling club will have as visitors the members of the Central Falls R. I. bowling club, who are coming to Plainfield to compete in the annual games of bowls on the local green. Each club will have a team of 20 bowlers and the home team is out to win this match, having never yet been defeated on the local green. The secretary has received a letter from Central Falls stating that the visitors are coming to Plainfield 80 strong, including their famous jazz band, which will parade through the village at the conclusion of the games. From all accounts this band is a fine one, provided with the latest jazz music.

In the evening both the visitors and the home bowlers will sit down to supper, after which a social hour will be spent. The Plainfield committee is inviting the public to attend these games, which will commence at 2:30 o'clock. The following bowlers will represent Plainfield: J. Kay, J. Ridins, T. Rhodes, Zeck Tietow, F. Kershaw, A. Hilton, J. Royle, W. Pritchard, J. Bottomley, J. Oates, W. Booth, J. E. Fitchard, T. Barnes, D. Ratcliffe, T. Walker, J. Walker, J. Jinks, C. Hoaden, T. T. Paine, W. Hurst, George Eastham, P. Houle, B. Judson, H. Ridins.

Especially attractive among the floral beauties of the season is the great bunch of Oswego tea, commonly called bee balm. In Mrs. E. A. Faust's garden at her residence on East Main street. There is a large catalpa tree, solid white with blossoms, on the S. G. Norman property above the Baptist church and among the many handsome ramblers Mrs. W. O. Soule's easily claim the ribbon.

Potato raisers in town are marveling about the peculiar condition that seems to exist in different fields of potatoes. Some are white with bloom—Mr. Butts' patch on East Main street, for example—while other fields of the same potato and planted the same time show only an occasional blossom here and there. Another potato grower asked at a recent meeting: Where are the potato bolls that 30 or 40 years ago could be picked by hand from almost any field of maturing potatoes? He says it was from these that new species were propagated.

Another: In memory of the Rev. Mr. Heskiah Lord, first minister of the Gospel of the North Society in Preston, who was born at Saybrook March 13th, 1698, was ordained to the ministerial office Nov. 20th, 1720, and departed this life June 29th, 1781. His early devoted himself to the service of God, and being blessed with a kind and benevolent Temper, added to a natural modesty of behavior, was very successful in promoting the pure Religion of his Heavenly Master and having diligently and faithfully discharged his Duty died in Peace. Mark the perfect Man and behold the Triumph For the End of that man is Peace. This is the only table monument in Griswold.

ducted a ladies' ready to wear shop in New London for the past eight years, has purchased the entire stock and goodwill of the Maurice Sample Shop and will conduct same on the same lines of business as he has in New London, which assures the ladies of Norwich and vicinity good merchandise at fair prices.

Breed Theatre.
Bessie Barriscale is a lovely married woman fighting to keep away from her husband the influences which are ruining wrong ideas in his head in "A Woman Who Understood," her latest Robertson-Colle Superior picture, which will be seen at the Breed theatre today and Saturday. In this story, which was written by Isabelle Johnston, Miss Bar-riscale was directed by William Parke.
It appears when Madge Graham (the character Miss Barriscale plays) left Greenwich Village with her musician husband, whom she met there, that the husband turned out to be a foolish idea about a "sovi mate" whom he begins to need, he thinks, when the burdens of married life and bringing up children begin to weigh. So the former "Village" finds her self opposing a wealthy middle-class woman who is trying to give the husband the "sympathy" which she wis-hens to him. He needs. And the former villager acquiesces herself in fine womanly fashion, making a great sacrifice for her husband, and showing him that her heart is in the right place. Miss Bar-riscale does a real piece of fine work in "A Woman Who Understood," one which will win her new friends, and which will be eagerly received by the ardent Barriscale admirers. Another feature the Breed will present "Sky-Bye." This is a cyclonic air romance of death defying escapades, dynamic in thrills and absorbing in interest. The Picture news will complete the bill for today and Saturday.

Davis Theatre
The show the last half of the week at the Davis is one that will please both young and old folks. The vaudeville is headed by Klutzing's entertainers. It is not only their excellent training, but the variety of animals that makes Klutzing's entertainers both interesting and amusing. Mr. Klutzing has taken a group of pigeons, rabbits, cats and dogs, birds and animals that naturally have an antipathy to one another, and by remarkable perseverance has taught them not only to perform unusual antics, but to work together with perfect harmony and with absolute confidence of each other's friendship. The next act is Hill & Quinnell, in a novel variety offering, all the same comes next in an act that is a different one. Another "Good Man Gone Wrong." Marion Claire, the girl with the voice completes the vaudeville. The feature picture is Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs." Humor with tears that tread upon smiles, is the keynote of the famous story by Jean Webster. Miss Pickford, as "Judy Abbott," easily has the best part of her career. As a poor orphan child, ever helping those about her and making the most of cruel treatment, she finally rises to wonderful heights of character. As a poor orphan child, she is a perfect picture of a girl. Matt & Jeff cartoon comedy completes the show.
